

Akron Beacon Journal
March 6, 2004

BOTTOMLINE

Law firm takes City Club space

An Akron law firm, Scanlon & Gearinger Co., plans to take up residence in the former Akron City Club atop the Akron Centre Plaza Building at 50 S. Main St.

The Akron City Club closed at the end of last year after 89 years, citing a declining membership and mounting debt.

The law firm, with 13 attorneys, said it will relocate from its current location at 1100 First National Tower. The firm has been looking for space to expand. The firm plans to occupy about 12,000 square feet, beginning in June, and lease the remaining 2,000 feet to other tenants.